What are the cabins like?

We have two styles of cabins. They range in size from 300 to 400 square feet. All have tin roofs. Some are partially enclosed with half-walls and screens, and others are totally enclosed with windows, doors and insulation. The staff will assign cabins based upon the date of registration and number of people in your group. No cabins have electricity or running water.

What about food?

The kitchen crew will provide three meals a day plus two snacks. Special dietary needs require at least a two week notice before the date of the camp session.

Are there facilities for the physically impaired?

Unfortunately at this time not enough of Pendola Center is accessible to people with physical disabilities to provide a fun and enjoyable weekend.

May we bring our pets?

Family pets are not allowed at Pendola Center.

Where do we stay? Families may bring a tent, trailer, camper, or stay in one of our cabins. We are planning to place two families in each cabin depending upon family size. (minimum of 5 people per cabin, maximum of 11).

Sleeping arrangements.

Each family will be assigned to a cabin. We do place two families in each cabin depending on family size. (Cabins accommodate 5-11 people in bunk style beds.)

Can we choose the family sharing our cabin?

Yes. If both families have signed up in time, we can place them together in the same cabin (if space allows).

Tents, Trailers, Campers, Motor Homes Personal tents, trailers, and campers are welcome. Please make reservations early as space is limited.

Are there bathrooms? Yes! We have two bathhouses with flush toilets, electricity, and showers. They are available 24 hours a day. Families will need to plan their shower times.
